

Just one per account, no exceptions. If you are going to do a book trial make sure you have time to review it in the seven day period. If you are really desperate you could install nookStudy on another computer, create another adobe account, and try it there.